COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

THURSDAY EVENING, Nov. 24.

THE somewhat rapid fall which has taken place in the New York Exchange on London, 1½ cents. in the last two days, has renewed the demand for Gold for the States, and a withdrawal of £125,000 from the Bank of England took place yesterday. So far there is no apparent movement in rates of discount in consequence, but it is very evident we shall see no reduction in the Bank rate now, even if the first change is not upward. Securities as yet are not altered in any way, all Reuter's quotations being the same as on the previous day, but should to-day's Bank return be unfavourable, we may be prepared for a downward move, both in Sterling and Rupee loans.

In the General Produce markets Reuter reports no change; and Seeds and Wheat are also as previously quoted.

The weekly prices for Metals show a further advance of £3 in Copper Braziers, £1 in Wallaroo Copper, and 5s. per ton in Spelter.

The Manchester market report is practically the same as before, steady but dull. The Liverpool Cotton market yesterday closed quiet for Americans, steady for Surats, although of the 10,000 bales estimated sales only 500 are put down to Surats. Spot prices are all unchanged, but we hear from private sources that to do business a decline of 1-16d. has practically to be accepted. In New York yesterday ready Mid-Uplands were unaltered, whilst February shipment was 7 points lower at 12·23 cents. per lb. This state of things shows pretty clearly what utter nonsense the crop estimate of 4,620,000 bales received through Reuter yesterday really is. For some time back the favourite estimates both in Liverpool and America have ranged from 5½ to 6¼ millions, and had there been anything to indicate the probability of a falling off of a million bales or more, we should have seen a material rise instead of a fall in values. The receipts at the U. S. ports to date give the following comparisons with the two previous seasons :—

	1881.	1880.	1879.
Wednesday's Receipts	33,000	27,000	32,000
Five days' "	161,000	130,000	158,000
Total since 1st September	1,978,000	2,235,000	2,060,000

At the weekly biddings for Council drafts in London yesterday the whole amount of 45 lacs was taken up at 1s. 7¾d. per rupee, and there is evidently a good demand for remittance to this side, as in addition shipments for Bombay are advised of £90,000 in Silver and £20,000 in Gold, and for Calcutta £20,000 in Silver.

EXCHANGE this morning opened steady but quiet, only one bank offering to draw at Is. 7 31-32d for demand. The position has remained the same throughout the day, although if anything the tone at the close has shown more firmness. It is very evident we shall have a fair amount of Cotton Bills in the market before long, and Money here is unquestionably getting dearer, two features which must tend to strengthen Sterling as time goes on. We quote at the close :—

Bank Bills on demand	Is. 7 15-16d. to 31-32 per Re.
Do. telegraphic	Is. 7 29-32d.	"
Do. 3 months' sight..	Is. 8¼d. to 5-32	"

On Calcutta the demand rate has receded to par, but 60 days are still quoted at ¼ per cent. discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER has been quieter again to-day under the influence of weaker home advices (our own correspondent quotes 84¾ and 91 as against Reuter's 84½ and 91½ respectively) combined with the evident tendency to dearer money here. Fours have receded to Rs. 101-7-16, and Fours-and-a-half to Rs. 110¾ sellers.

SHARES.—The slight recovery which took place in spinning and weaving companies a couple of days ago has, with few exceptions, been lost again to-day. Sassoon are Rs. 25 and Central India Rs. 15 higher, but on the other hand there is a decline of Rs. 25 in Alliance, Rs. 20 in Dhurrumsey, and Jewraj Balloo, and Rs. 5 to Rs. 10 in other companies. Colaba Land and Mill shares are Rs. 5 lower at Rs. 810. Banks remain unaltered. Press shares are firm, and in some cases rather dearer. Bombay Burmah Trading Co's shares are Rs. 25 higher.

COTTON has undergone a decline to-day of Rs. 2 per candy so far as new Omras are concerned, but other descriptions are practically unchanged. Broach, in fact, has been done to the extent of about 1,000 bales at Rs. 230, a recovery of Re. 1 per candy from yesterday. Arrivals of Omras are rapidly increasing, and as few sales have been made for November shipment, it is not unlikely we may see lower rates established. Buyers, in fact, will give almost as much for February delivery as for December.

SEEDS AND WHEAT are still unaltered.

FREIGHTS continue dull at 37s. 6d. for Liverpool with every appearance of even a lower figure being established ere long. For loading after the end of the year steamers are still offering at 38s. 9d. U. K. or Continent.

PIECE-GOODS show no appreciable change. A moderate enquiry prevails, but prices do not show any symptoms of improvement.

COALS are unaltered, and no new business has transpired.

REDUCTION OF ARTILLERY IN INDIA.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

ALLAHABAD, Nov. 24.

The Home Government have sanctioned the carrying out of a reduction in strength of the Artillery in India recommended by the Army Commission. The number of batteries will in future be seventy-seven instead of eighty-eight; but greater efficiency is to be secured by keeping up the full complement of the officers and men, particularly in garrison batteries, which have only too often been mere skeletons. The reduction is to be carried out at once.

THE ABOR EXPEDITION.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Nov. 24.

The Englishman's special correspondent gives particulars of the first day across the frontier. The boats containing the baggage of the expeditionary force having arrived at Dibong outpost, the detachment of the 43rd—312 of all ranks—under the command of Major Beresford commenced the first march across the inner or frontier line on the morning of the 13th November. As the rapids commenced from the outset of the journey, and occurred at short intervals the whole of the river route, not more than 20 or 30 maunds of baggage could be carried in each boat. The main body, preceded by an advance guard and followed by a rear guard escorting elephants and baggage, started, accompanied a short distance by Colonel Evans and the Assistant Political Officer. The route for 2½ miles was along a patrol path cut through the dense forest towards the Dikrany outpost to the east, about 5 miles distant. From here a path had to be cut through primeval forest and jungle in a northerly direction towards Dibong. This détour was made to avoid crossing the Dikrany at a point near the junction of the river Dibong where the current is swift and deep. It was crossed higher up, where a bamboo bridge has been constructed for the purpose. The path continued through the forest for another mile, emerging on the left bank of the Dibong, skirting this to another stream where the bridge had been constructed, and continuing along the edge of the Dibong through grass, bamboo, and forest jungle. About six miles from the Dibong the camp of Rai Lahmon was reached, where a halt was made to enable the boats to come up. They arrived two hours later, and it was decided to encamp for the night. A cordon of double sentries was placed for protection, and in lieu of tents grass huts were erected and before sunset all were busy cooking their dinners. It was very hot marching through the dense forests, where all air was excluded, and across the sandy and pebbly beaches; but directly the sun set it became cold and chilly. Except the two streams crossed, no other obstacles of a very formidable nature were encountered during the first day in the enemy's country.

THERE were three deaths from cholera in Bombay last week, as compared to an average of four for the corresponding weeks of the last five years. We regret to see that the disease has reappeared in Poona, where it had quite died out; there were six deaths on the 22nd instant, and up to that date eighteen seizures had been reported. Cholera appeared again in the Sholapore Collectorate, Barsi, and Madha talukas, during last week; but no figures are given. In Satara the disease continues to decrease: there were 39 cases last week, and 18 deaths. In the Belgaum district there were 21 deaths in the week, in Kaladgi 4 deaths, and in Ahmednagar 3 deaths. There is no cholera reported this week from Wadhwan. It is announced from Rajkot that the disease has appeared in Jetpur, but is subsiding in Morvi; and from Nasick that "cholera is abating in Balgan."

MR. GONNES' resignation of the office of an Additional Member of the Council of the Governor of Bombay for making laws and regulations only, and Mr. J. B. Peile's nomination to the vacant seat, are notified in yesterday's Bombay Government Gazette.

IN addition to the 1st Battalion Royal Scots Fusiliers (late 1-21st), the 2nd Battalion Wiltshire Regiment (late 99th) comes to India from Natal this season, and relieves the 1st Battalion Leicestershire Regiment at Jhanshi, Nowgong, and Gwalior. The latter regiment has been ordered to proceed home in the Jumna on the 22nd January next.

A CIRCULAR has just been issued by the Assistant Adjutant-General for Musketry reminding officers commanding native corps that the duty of supervising musketry practice when the men are shooting for prizes is not to be delegated to native officers. A European officer is to be present on all such occasions, and infringement of the order will result in the forfeiture of any prize or prizes to which the men would otherwise be entitled.

THE Pioneer says:—The many friends and admirers of Archdeacon Matthew will be grieved to learn that he is dangerously ill at Simla. The malady which has attacked him, erysipelas, is believed to have been caught in the course of a visit to a sick person at Jutogh.

THE Rangoon Times says that the Parsee Victoria Theatrical Company would be very pleased if they could get away from Mandalay with even a moiety of what was promised them. The paper is of opinion that "before the flag of Britain again flies over them they will very deeply regret ever having even temporarily left it."

POONA threatens to eclipse Bombay in one direction at any rate. The Deccan Herald writes:—"We are glad to learn that the Cantonment Committee have decided to introduce the electric light within the cantonment limits, and that the proposal has been forwarded for the sanction of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief. We can scarcely doubt that if this new scheme of lighting the roads and lanes in camp becomes an fait accompli the City Municipality will not follow suit, and thus greatly improve the nocturnal appearance of the capital of the Deccan; and we should think that there will be less robberies committed. A very large amount has now been collected by the Conservancy Department, and we don't see any reason why the requirements of the cantonment should not be attended to without further delay."

THE following circular has been addressed to the owners of cotton mills in Bombay by Mr. Narayen Meghjee Luckhmidas:—

It is in contemplation to form a project by means of which a great boon would be conferred upon the poorer classes of mill hands, and some advantage also accrue to the promoters of the scheme; but through such mutual advantages might themselves recommend to the minds of the parties directly interested a trial of such an undertaking, it is deemed inadvisable to venture upon it without some encouragement from you by any means which you may devise so as to countenance the arrangements which may subsist between the mill hands and the projectors of the scheme, without rendering yourselves in any way responsible to either.

It is already known to you that these poor mill hands are all or mostly heavily burdened with debts, and are obliged to find means to maintain themselves and families to a great extent on credit, which they do by dealing with grain and flour dealers and shroffs, who supply their urgent wants at enormous profit to themselves by heavy rates of interest and high charges for articles of food, receiving payment from time to time on account, and on the other hand adding to the debts further interest and supplies for daily consumption.

It is therefore to relieve these poor people that I have, with the assistance of some influential friends, organised a plan whereby I would be enabled to supply all articles required, and also advance money at extremely low rates, if monthly accounts could be settled between us.

This arrangement, I venture to think, might be carried out satisfactorily to all parties concerned if managed in a demi-official way so far as the mill hands' dealings with me, that is to say, if I opened a place of business to supply their wants on my own responsibility and if they required anything, they might obtain a slip of paper from the pay clerk showing the articles or money required, and bring it to me, and at the end of each month these would form vouchers for their accounts due, and the pay clerk might be authorised, with their consent previously given, to deduct the same from their pay and pay it to me in each month. Should such a course meet with your approval and be considered feasible, I would be only too glad to contribute any fair remuneration for the extra work entailed on account thereof to the pay clerk.

WE hear that news has been received in Bombay to the effect that the oppression to which the Parsees of Yezd have been hitherto subjected has been put an end to. Their judicial rights, as well as others appertaining to loyal subjects, have been to a considerable extent restored, and a special firman is said to have been issued by the Shah of Persia for the protection of his Zoroastrian subjects.

THE Madras Mail writes:—The news is almost too good to be true, so we whisper it with all reserve, most gentle reader, into your ear. They say that Mrs. Grant Duff does not at all care for high altitudes, and that in any case there is not a chance of her going to Ootacamund this year. The feelings of the exquisites who have just returned to Madras from seven months' absence on the Nilgris, and who have been counting upon an outing to the hills by April at latest, may be better imagined than described. We are sorry for them; but we have a confident belief that if they are constrained to remain the whole of the next hot weather in the plains they will come round to the conclusion of hundreds of their countrymen who have their being here from year's end to year's end, that provided they "take it aisy," or at any rate take it as "aisy as they can," there are a good many worse places—including Ooty in the rains—to live in than Madras. If Mrs. Grant Duff should prove the means of keeping the Government of her husband in the path and place of duty, she will thoroughly merit the order of the Imperial Crown of India. Let her now and then grace Guindy, Ennore, Bangalore, Yercaud with her presence and she should succeed both in keeping her health, and in preventing the repetition of the scandal of the annual exodus.

THE Railway Department of the Government of India is displaying unusual energy. Two lines of railway are to be started this season as "prospective works." One is to go from Rewari on the Rajputana Railway to Hissar, and ultimately be extend to Ferozepore. Besides bringing a large new area of country within the influence of railway communication, and thus fulfilling its purpose as a protective work, the proposed line, by the time it is completed to Ferozepore, will do a good deal to shorten the journey from all stations on the Bombay, Baroda, and Central India, and Rajputana railways to the Punjab, as the completion of the line between Ferozepore and Lahore must become a matter of course. The second of the lines above referred to belongs to the Northern Mahratta system, and will put the Portuguese railway from Goa to Marmagoa in communication with Bellary in Madras. A branch from this line leaving it at Gadag will run to Sholapore on the G. I. P. Both these lines will be on the metre gauge. Besides these protective works, the general object of which is to guard new areas of country from the dangers of isolation in time of famine, the Public Works Department has various projects in hand in connexion with the railway surveys of the present season. A survey is being made of the line projected from opposite Patna vid Goruckpore to Baraitch. There is no present intention of making this railway as a State line, but as there is every prospect of its turning out a profitable undertaking, it may be taken up by private capitalists when Government knows what it is likely to cost. An exploring party has also been told off to examine the country between Mymensing and Gowhatty in Assam The department has also directed exploring parties to be sent out during the cold weather to look out for practicable routes between Nandgaon, the present terminus of the Nagpore-Chattisgurh Railways, and Barrakur on the East Indian Railway; also towards Bimlipatan on the East Coast. There will be several of these parties who will explore the country, generally not along the direct routes only, but wherever railways seem to be required for the development of the country. Another party will explore the country between Nagpore and Saugar for a line to connect the projected Bundelkund system with the C. P. system. It will depend on the character of the reports received from these various exploring parties whether detailed surveys will be undertaken subsequently or not. The explanation the Pioneer offers of this unwonted activity is that there is a good deal of agitation in the moneyed world at present on the subject of Indian railway enterprise, and Government is getting together all the information it can obtain for the service of the public.

THERE is an agitation going on in the Madras Presidency with reference to what is known as the "Chingleput Scandal." As the Madras Mail states the case, the people consider that they have been systematically oppressed; but all their efforts to obtain redress, or even a hearing, have failed. The Collector of the district is one of those able but imperious functionaries who cannot brook the idea that they are not the lords over, but merely the servants of the people who pay them. He is energetic, zealous, and shrewd; but is not the man to regard with complacency any local dissatisfaction with his fiats. Now the ryots allege that they have been badly treated by a native revenue officer who has the confidence of the Collector and the Sub-Collector of the district. They have done everything short of rioting to induce the district officials, the Board of Revenue, and the Government to protect them. They have more than once memorialised the Board and the Government; but as often as they have done so, have their memorials been sent back to the district officials, or pigeonholed. The memorials are not intended to convey any reflection upon the Collector or Sub-Collector; but as an independent Commission of Inquiry is solicited, this is tantamount to an expression of belief that the district officials are not as free from bias as they might be. The Board is composed exclusively of members of the distinguished service to which the two officials belong; and, with the exception of the Governor, the Government, so far as regards the Revenue Administration, is similarly constituted. It is not surprising that men of the same service stand together, and that, whether members of the Board or of the Government, they scorn to entertain so monstrous an idea as that "one of us" can do wrong. But the Mail entertains great hopes that Mr. Grant Duff will not endure the continuance of the scandal. His Excellency will be assured by the members of his Council and of the Board that there are no grounds for complaint with the petitioners' request that a Special Commission should be appointed to inquire into their complaints. He will be told that the subordinate against whom there is an outcry has, in the execution of his duty, incurred the ill-will of some of the people of his talook. And he will be reminded that he cannot take the inquiry out of the hands of the Collector and divisional officers without casting a reflection on as able and reliable men as are to be found in the country. On the other hand, perhaps his Excellency will permit us to remind him that members of Council and of the Board live in ignorance of much that goes on all around them. They are capable men enough, and they wish to do the right; but the truth does not always reach their ears or eyes. Moreover, they are bound to support the executive in which they are the most conspicuous figures. In the case of most of them many years have passed since they were themselves district officials; and even when they filled that position, they were always more or less liable to be imposed upon by their sheristadars, tahsildars, and other subordinates. The odds are palatable to them that they were ever made the tools of Aryans who lived with the one object of feathering their own nests. But it is given to few Collectors to escape the entanglements that seem as inseparable as roofs to cutcherries. The Governor cannot be desirous of acting contrary to the wishes of the veterans of the Civil Service, but it must be his wish to arrive at the truth; and we trust, therefore, that he will afford the memorialists the satisfaction of learning that an officer of recognised ability who is not in the Civil Service has been appointed to institute those impartial inquiries at Conjeveram that are loudly declared to be necessary."

WITH reference to the matter referred to in the preceding paragraph, the Madras Times remarks:—"We are glad to hear that the condition of affairs in this district, to which we recently drew attention, has been under the consideration of his Excellency the Governor, who has evinced such a lively interest in it that we may look forward to a decision which will be satisfactory to the public. We believe that already certain conclusions have been arrived at which will soon assume a practical shape.

THE Rangoon papers are hoping great things from the Viceroy's approaching visit. The following case is quoted by the local Gazette as one to which Lord Ripon's attention might be directed. "Some time ago a case came to our knowledge, in which a European made application for some land to experiment upon with products which have hitherto received no attention in Burma, but which he was inclined to believe could be cultivated successfully. He pointed out what he considered suitable land for the purpose, and asked that he might get a free grant of it to experiment upon for a few years, after which, should his operations prove remunerative, he would be willing to arrange a lease of the ground at a fair rent. The land was unreclaimed jungle, unused by any one. After almost endless trouble, and much time spent in measuring, surveying, drawing plans, &c., &c., he was informed that the grant would be allowed, and he congratulated himself on having at length surmounted his difficulties. But no man should 'halloo until he is out of the wood.' When the formal permission reached him, he was rather taken aback to discover that the Government which is inspired by a sincere desire to afford private enterprise every possible opportunity for the introduction of European capital,' had surrounded the grant with conditions which made the whole thing a farce. They wanted to bind him down to clear the land, and put a fence round it which would probably have cost Rs. 20,000. Of course he was not quite so rash as to expend such a sum on experiments the result of which was problematical, and the consequence was that he abandoned his scheme in disgust. We might multiply instances to show how different has been the policy hitherto pursued from that which the Viceroy stamps with his approval; but most people will be able to recall similar episodes which have come under their own notice, and we therefore refrain. What a splendid country Burma would become under the liberal laws which obtain in Australia, Canada, and America! If Lord Ripon can only induce officialdom to cast off its prejudices and inaugurate a new and liberal régime, he will long be remembered as one of Burma's greatest benefactors."

THE Bacchante, with the Princes Edward and George of Wales, arrived with the detached squadron at Yokohama on the 21st October. They will spend Christmas Day in Honkong.

THE temporary arrangements in accordance with the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Military Offences in 1869, for making "a clear difference" between the treatment of soldiers convicted of mere breaches of discipline and prisoners charged with criminal offences, appear to have already gone far towards attaining this object. At the date of the latest returns, July, 1881, there were in civil prisons in England and Wales only 333 military prisoners; while in the purely military prisons, including Milbank and those recently constituted, there were 1,019.

A COPY of the long missing map of Eastern Turkestan, made by the Swedish Artillery Sergeant Renat, during his captivity among the Kalmuks, 1716 to 1733, has just been discovered in Stockholm, and will be forthwith published in St. Petersburg in facsimile, by the Imperial Geographical Society. In spite of the visits of Russian travellers towards the close of the eighteenth and beginning of the nineteenth century, Central Asia remained little known; and it was not till about the year 1822 that any authentic information became accessible regarding Dzoungaria, to which region Renat's map specially relates. The document is therefore regarded as both curious and of high importance to the general history of geography.

THE London correspondent of the Plymouth Mercury writes:—I hear that instructions have been given to keep a sharp eye upon Mr. Joseph Cowen, M.P., who has gone to Ireland, with what object is probably accurately divined at Dublin Castle. The hon. member for Tynemside acted as receiver of correspondence for Mr. Parnell during the temporary operation of the epistolary inquisition at St. Martin's-le-Grand last winter. He now probably desires to act for the President of the Land League by carrying on the agitation in Irland. There is nothing to prevent Mr. Cowen from getting into Kilmainham, and once in, he may work things so that he will not get out again.

AN influential association has been formed for the relief of ladies who are in distress through non-payment of their rents in Ireland. The committee, who include among their number many distinguished names, limit their objects to the assistance of widows or unmarried ladies whose incomes have failed altogether or in part through the cause referred to. The suffering among this class is said to be widespread, a large proportion of cases being, it is stated those of ladies "owning small properties, or mortgagees and annuitants on real estate, whose incomes at best are only just enough to enable them to live."

HOW A STORY GROWS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Kindly allow me a corner of space in your valuable journal to say a word or two regarding the blunder committed in respect of the matriculation examination papers of the 21st and 22nd instant, as appeared in an article in your contemporary's issue of to-day.

If, as is stated, the Euclid and Mathematical papers have really been changed as a safeguard against a further attempt at outwitting the scrutiny of the examiners, the fact suggests itself that strong confirmative evidence must have been received of advantage having been illegally and extensively taken of the blunder referred to, by evil disposed persons, and of these rumour states the number is very large (which is nothing strange when the importance of the occasion is taken into consideration). There are again several rumours as to the way in which the examiners intend to neutralize the effects of this misfortune. Some assert that a fresh examination will be taken in the subjects affected, others will have it that the papers will remain as they are, but that they will be examined with an unusual strictness, while some even maintain that the usual requisite percentage of marks to be obtained will be altered from 33⅓ and 25 to 50.

The best course, Sir, however, would be to take a fresh examination in all the four subjects affected by the blunder; for, Sir, I hope you will concur with me and join with me in protesting against the adoption of any other expedient, which would surely fail with a heavy, unjust, and entirely undeserved crash upon those innocent victims who have had no hand in the matter, and some of whom I can even declare from my own experience had no knowledge of the thing even up to this morning. Consider this then, Sir, and judge for yourself whether a trifling extra expense to Government would be anything compared to the great hardship which would otherwise be brought down upon the heads of the innocent creatures for the rash and most disgraceful conduct of the wicked. Besides, the course I have ventured to suggest will surely never be objected to by honest candidates, even though they may have fairly scored a reasonable number of marks in the disputed papers.

BUGGY FARES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Will you allow me space to draw the attention of whoever regulates buggy fares to the charge of four annas from the Apollo-bunder to Watson's Hotel, or the Bombay Club, or the Custom House? Why are these follows allowed to make such a charge? Two annas would be too much, an anna quite sufficient.

POTASH OR POTASSIUM?

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Really the audacity of the editor of your contemporary is something wonderful—it is only equalled by his ignorance! We are told in to-day's issue that "Dr. de Lacerda's antidote (?) for snake poison is permanganate of potash, not permanganate of potassium, which makes all the difference in the world." The veriest novice in chemistry knows that the only difference is one of nomenclature, the permanganate of potassium of the United States pharmacopœia being the permanganate of potash of the British pharmacopeia. There is no more difference than there is between carbonate of potassium and carbonate of potash, or between carbonate of sodium and carbonate of soda. They are different names for the same drug, and "all the difference in the world" of your contemporary amounts to nothing.

STEALING POST LETTERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—On delivery of the mail last evening, two letters were given to one of our men to bring off to me; one I got safely, but the other (an English one) was missing. Thinking I should get it with the "liberty boat" this morning, I waited, but it was not brought off. On making inquiries on board, the missing letter was found, without the envelope, in the men's quarters, crumpled up and thrown on one side like a piece of waste paper. One man was pointed out as having been seen with it in his hand. I sent for the police, who came on board, and the envelope was found amongst the accused man's kit. He was taken to the police hulk, but shortly afterwards brought back with the information that if I wished to punish him, I must go to the expense and trouble of taking a summons out against him.

And this the law? The police actually find stolen property in a person's possession, and yet they refuse to take him in charge. The letter had the feel of one containing bank bills.

THE RECENT CHORAL FESTIVAL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—I shall thank you for a small space in your valuable columns to insert the following. As years roll on and the Choral Festival comes round, when persons of the Anglo-Catholic Church congregate in the S. Thomas's Cathedral, Bombay, the committee for selecting the music and making the necessary arrangements to meet the satisfaction of the audience, set down year by year certain rules by which the congregation may assemble. For the last two years the committee resolved to supply tickets, with numbers, to persons, so that they may occupy seats with numbers corresponding to their tickets, and made the church look as much of a theatre as possible. This year I see that the clever step they adopted surpassed all the plans of the preceding years. "Persons wishing to attend the annual Choral festival in S. Thomas's Cathedral must furnish themselves with books, which can be obtained by applying to any of the clergy at Bombay, by the payment of the cost of the book, which is 8 annas, or they will not be allowed to enter the church"—or something to that effect was the notice given by a certain clergyman of a parish church. May I ask, by what authority can a member of the Anglo-Catholic Church be refused admittance? I hardly expected that the head of the Church of England community would permit such an undertaking. Instead of persons being invited by the eloquent preacher, the Rev. Father Black, and to take home to their hearts his sermon, they are asked to pay for the service. How many may have changed their manner of behaving and turned to the all-loving God, but were prevented, as perhaps 8 annas was too much for them. Was it a service for the rich alone? Are the poor altogether forgotten? "How hard it is for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven." Was it that they only should be preached to? See, Sir, what the world has come to that the word of God should be heard for payment of a fee. Shame to the committee to institute such a rule, and shame also to those who easily submitted to it! There was want of the Hibernian spirit in the whole congregation, of which the preacher, though an Hibernian, failed to pour it forth in words.

THE EXAMINATIONS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Oh! what a calamity has befallen! Oh! what heart-breaking, what despairing! Ten thousand curses on that paper, that mathematics paper I meant. It has tolled the knell of scores of students. Can any man possessing any particle of common-sense dream of putting first B. A. students on the same level with F. C. E. students? Can any of those examiners point me out any rule of the University Calendar as to the legality of setting such a question as "State the laws of friction," and assigning some 12 marks for it? In the Calendar it is distinctly stated that students should know as far as mechanical powers. No mention is made at all of friction. If the examiners take it into their head to put any sort of question, there is no need of prescribing the studies for the degrees. Is mathematics the only subject for getting degrees that so much weight has been attached to it? If so, remove literature altogether from the curriculum.

Nov. 16. PERDITUS.

II.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—I do not know whether the examiners in the English oral examination have absolute power, or are guided by some rules or regulations which would tend to give equal justice to all the students. But from the way in which some of the first B. A. students have been examined orally, it seems that the examiners have absolute power. Can any one call it just that an examiner, knowing that a student has not answered only one question in his written examination, should ask him orally nothing but the questions of the same nature as that not answered by him, and thereby to make him not eligible for any of the marks in the oral examination? Even this might be allowable if that question would test the solid knowledge of the students. But how can it be allowable when the question wants the students to prepare the odes and sonnets of the "Golden Treasury" like numbers of propositions of Euclid? How can it be allowed when questions of this nature are asked—"Give me the substance of an ode by Coleridge or Moore?" Should a student fail for such questions only? If they be any such absolute power, in order to put a stop to such whims on the part of the examiners it would be a great boon to the public in future to assign a fixed number of marks for certain kinds of questions, as is done in the Matriculation oral examination, and it would be an object of greater encouragement to the students than can be given by an increase of fifty scholarships.

A WIDOW REMARRIAGE.

ONE of those happy unions which result in the alleviation of a Hindu widow's woes took place yesterday evening at the residence of Mr. Madhavdas Raghunathdas, who, in the opinion of some of his friends, might, without any misuse of language, be called the patron of widow remarriage. For, in the face of much public obloquy from his caste-fellows and other Hindus, and at not a little personal sacrifice, he has ventured for some time past to lead the forlorn hope of Hindu widows, who, by simply appealing to him, have their wrongs redressed and their social position transformed from that of widows into wives. Such a happy change has been wrought in five previous instances in this year under Mr. Madhavdas's patronage, and yesterday's was the sixth case. All these remarriages were solemnized at his residence in Girgaum. The first one was that of Chuttoorbhooj Cullianjee and Daebai in May last; the second, that of Bawanjee Gordhun and Mancooerbai in July last; the third, that of Motiram and Cassibai in August last; the fourth, that of Damjee Ruttonsey and Malbai in October last; the fifth, that of Premjee Narronjee and Jumnabai in the same month; and the sixth one of last night was that of Mansookhram Soorchund and Luxmibai, members of the Dassa Shrimalee Bania caste. In two of the previous instances the bride and bridegroom were Brahmins; in other two they were Banias; and in the fifth instance they were Bhattias. It would thus appear that Mr. Madhavdas has not confined his benevolent exertions to members of his own—the Kapole Bania—caste.

With regard to the fortunate persons who were married last night, we learned that Mansookhram was a bachelor of about thirty-five years of age, a ghee merchant of Ahmedabad. Luxmibaee, the bride, twenty-four years of age, was the widow of Choonilal Callidas, to whom she was married at the age of thirteen years, and who died four years later, leaving her a widow in her seventeenth year. Thus had she borne the affliction of her widowhood for a period of seven years, during which she was dependent for her support upon her brother. Both came to Bombay about a week ago for the purpose of re-marriage, which was impossible in their own native place, Ahmedabad, where Mr. Premchoy Hemabhoy, the head of the "Mahajun," and Mr. Muggonbhoy Currumchund, the head of the Dassa Shrimalee Bania caste, were likely to have used their great influence to put the curses of excommunication upon the heads of both bride and bridegroom. They were wise, therefore, in seeking the protection of Mr. Madhavdass, which was cordially accorded them.

Special preparations had been made at Mr. Madhowdas's bungalow for the solemnization of the marriage. In an oval, open verandah or platform in the compound, fringed round with flower-plants in tubs and pots, and illuminated with pillars and triangles of oil-lamps, were arranged seats for the visitors, the friends of reform, who had been invited to witness the interesting proceedings—the emancipation of one more creature from the woes the laws of her caste would have doomed to a life-long widowhood. The guests began to arrive about 8-30 p.m., and were received at the entrance of the bungalow by Mr. Madhavdas. The marriage ceremony, which commenced about half an hour earlier, was conducted by two Brahmins on the ground-floor of the bungalow, in the presence of other Brahmins and several native ladies, who had also been invited for the occasion. A native band, stationed in the compound, played during intervals in the ceremony. At one stage of it the bride and bridegroom signed a declaration to the effect that they were married of their own free will in the presence of witnesses and officiating priests according to the form prescribed by the Shastras and the custom of the caste to which they belonged; and that the bridegroom paid to the bride the sum of Rs. 51 as her pin-money and marriage gift. The ceremony was over about 9-30 p.m., when bouquets, rose-water, and pan-soparee were distributed to the guests, who separated soon afterwards.

A HINDU WEDDING.

A LARGE number of native gentlemen assembled yesterday morning at the "Hermitage," Khumballahill, the residence of the Hon'ble Rao Saheb V. N. Mandlik, C.S.I., on the occasion of the marriage of his son. The bungalow, which is nicely situated on rising ground on the Pedder-road, the new road that—intersecting the Gowalla Tank-road—leads from Malabar-hill to Mahaluxmee, has well-appointed garden grounds, which were decorated for the occasion with Venetian masts, bannerets, &c. A string band played at the main entrance, where the visitors were received by the Rao Saheb. They were then led up into the upper hall and given bouquets and pan-soparee and rose-water. At 9-30 a.m. a marriage procession was formed. A number of carriages, occupied by gaily dressed children, formed the van of it, followed by native ladies on foot, after whom came the gentlemen. The procession went along the Gowalla Tank-road, and halted at Sunkersett House, at the turn into the Tardeo-road, where the bride and her relations had temporarily put up. The gentlemen forming the procession, and those who arrived afterwards,
